Private Percussion Lessons

Private lessons are available in the areas of orchestral percussion (mallets, snare drum, accessories), Caribbean and West African folkloric drumming, and drumset (jazz, rock, latin). Private study is at the University with schedule arranged between student and instructor during the first week of the semester. Fees must be paid in full upon first lesson. All fees are to be paid by the student directly to the instructor (cannot be through bursar account) and does not include study materials such as sticks, mallets, books, sheet music, etc.

Private lessons are available for credit and must be approved by the Music Department. Students taking lessons for credit should register for "Individual Instruction Outside Cornell" (Music 321/Fall or Music 322/Spring; section 08), and must be registered for another 3-credit music course during the first semester of lessons and every other semester thereafter.

Lesson Costs:

One Hour Lessons

Total Cost: $350 @$35/hour (paid in full upon first lesson)

Number of lessons per semester: 10
